Victory Day Boosts War Bond Sales

Sales Total $27,500; Township Triples Quota for July

Pronounced a success from the standpoint of attendance, entertainment, patriotic fervor and in the attainment of its chief objective—the stepping up of war bond and defense stamp sales—Antioch Victory day celebration held here last Thursday resulted in the sale of $27,500 in war bonds and hundreds of dollars in defense stamps. Added to the amount already collected during the first 11 business days of July for bonds and stamps, the township total reaches an amount in excess of $35,000, or more than three times the local quota of $11,000.

6,000 See Parade

A throng estimated at 6,000 persons saw the mile-long parade which heralded the celebration, and they remained for the program of band music, vaudeville numbers, carnival features and street dancing which followed. The drive for the sale of war bonds and defense stamps continued throughout the evening with both Antioch banks remaining open for the accommodation of buyers.

Various units in the parade were identified by the announcer as they passed the reviewing stand. Included in cars heading the parade were naval officers, Lieut. James McMillen, and Ensign William Strahan of Rosecrans, attached to the naval air service as a pilot. Lieut. McMillen, noted athlete of Antioch, is now in active service as athletic director at Navy Pier, Chicago. Also given a place of honor was Major L. D. Powles, Antioch alderman, who is now attached to the supply corps at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Also in the leading cars, and later introduced from the platform were Mayor George B. Bartlett of Antioch, Mayor Frank Wallin of Waukegan, and James Stiles, Jr., Lake Bluff, chairman of the Lake county bond sales campaign.

Parade Units Cheered

One of the highlights in the parade was the 60-piece naval fife, drum and bugle corps of Great Lakes; and other units drawing attention and applause were the Antioch Junior Legion and the Waukegan drum and bugle corps, the Salvation army children's circus parade unit, Antioch Fire department, the Bristol and Antioch High School bands, and the Girl Scouts, and the color guard of the American Legion of Libertyville.

The Antioch Rescue squad, one of the newer service units of the community, appearing in new summer uniforms, also drew applause.

George S. McGaughey, Waukegan lawyer, and corporation counsel for Antioch, who was slated to handle only the introductory part of the program as master of ceremonies, had to carry on throughout the evening when it was announced that Don McNeill, NBC announcer, could not attend.

Richmond Band Plays

Having a prominent part in the program, but not marching in the parade, was the Richmond concert band which played before the parade and during intermissions in the program. The band is under the direction of Prof. (Continued on Page 8)

Hold Funeral Service For Mrs. Sorensen

Wife of Chris Sorensen Succumbs at Age of 60 Years

Funeral services for Mrs. Hansine Peterson Sorensen, wife of Chris Sorensen, were held yesterday afternoon from Strang's funeral home, with the Rev. Warren C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in the North Shore Garden of Memories.

Mrs. Sorensen died Sunday in Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan, following an illness of four months. She was born February 20, 1882, in Narre Suede, Denmark. She was married to Chris Sorensen on Dec. 10, 1904, in Kenosha. The couple lived in Waukegan for several years, later moving to Antioch community.

Mrs. Sorensen was a member of Dania Lodge, Kenosha, and of the Mystic Workers of Antioch.

Surviving besides her husband are three sons and a daughter: Lesley, Martin and William Sorensen, and Mrs. Esther Hampton, all of Waukegan. One brother and two sisters are still in Denmark.

Stiles Thanks Antioch

James Stiles, Jr., general chairman of Lake County War Savings Staff, was enthusiastic over the response given by Antioch people at the Victory day celebration here last Thursday.

"The Bond Sale and Celebration last night at Antioch was an outstanding success. Over two months quota for the township were sold, the banks remaining open until midnight," writes Chairman Stiles to Otto S. Klass, local chairman. "Please thank the rest of the committee for me."

The Observer

"The skirmishing of the 1944 Presidential election battle has begun and President Roosevelt is in the thick of the fight," writes Arthur Sears Henning, veteran political analyst and newspaper reporter from Washington, D. C. "Folks are wondering whether it is the rumblings of a fourth term candidacy they are hearing from afar." Mr. Roosevelt and James A. Farley are engaged in a struggle for control of the Democratic organization in New York, according to Henning, and the selection of delegates to the 1944 Democratic convention. Among the political visitors who called recently at the White House were Congressman Michael J. Kennedy (D., N. Y.), leader of Tammany hall, and Edward J. (Paving Blocks) Flynn, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who went away with the Tammany chieftain announcing that "the president says he will support any liberal candidate selected by the leaders of New York state, provided he has supported his (the president's) war policy 100 per cent before Pearl Harbor."

Let's adjourn politics and win the war!

Commendable was Antioch's purchase of $27,500 of war bonds at the Victory day celebration here last Thursday; commendable, too, was the fine patriotic spirit shown by residents and visitors throughout the day and evening. Inspiring was the fine company of sailors from Great Lakes; inspiring, too, was the patriotic music of bands, both local and visiting organizations that were willing and anxious to contribute their help to make the event the success it proved to be. And the community is grateful for the splendid contributions of radio stars and all other entertainers who appeared on the program. . . . But what the hell were the two political candidates doing on the platform where they managed to have themselves introduced to one of the largest gatherings ever seen in Antioch? Neither spoke, nor was it explained by the master of ceremonies just what part the politicians had in the furthering of the main objective of the day—the sale of war bonds and defense stamps. Records disclose that neither of the candidates bought any war bonds in Antioch on Victory day. On the platform the candidates appeared self-conscious and almost apologetic as though it had

KUTIL HEADS SALVAGE DRIVE IN TOWNSHIP

C. L. Kutil, director of vocational agriculture at the Antioch Township High school, and adviser to the Future Farmers of America group here, has accepted the chairmanship of the Antioch Township Salvage committee and will direct the campaign to be launched within the near future to collect all materials useful in war industries.

The salvage campaign is nation-wide and is directed by the American Industries Salvage committee. Locally, Mr. Kutil will devise ways and means of collecting the vital materials and also the disposition to be made of them.

Chairman Kutil is not unfamiliar with salvaging operations. To date he has collected through the efforts of himself, high school boys and members of the F. F. A. and farmers, a total of 36,000 pounds of old iron and steel. Sheahan Brothers recently reported the collection of 30 tons of junk iron from farms. The total collection from these two agencies exceeds 58 tons. Antioch did not do so badly in the aluminum drive, and other materials, too, have been collected in quantity in this community.

Kutit thinks there are still many hundreds of tons of vital war materials remaining here uncollected. It will be his committee's job to comb the township for every pound of scrap that will be useful in helping to win the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Shannon spent Tuesday in Chicago.

Legion Collects Records for Our Fighting Men

New Records for Old Will Go to Fighting Men Everywhere

Preparations for the American Legion's old phonograph record salvage drive which began July 17 and extends through August 2, gained new momentum today with the formation of three key committees for the direction of canvassing, collection, and promotional activities.

Purpose of the campaign is to collect a quota of 3000 records in this community as a part of the nationwide campaign for 37,500,000 records. These records will be collected by the American Legion and sold for their scrap value by Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc., a non-profit organization of famous musical artists. Proceeds will be used to purchase new records and phonograph players for every American Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Corps, and Coast Guard camp, base, post and station throughout the world.

Post Commander Roman Vos, director of the local campaign, announced the selection of members of the Collection, Civic, and Publicity Committees. Headquarters for the drive are at the Antioch Township library, 885 Main st., and at Barthel Bros. service station, corner Main and Lake sts.

Assisting on the committees are: for the Legion—L. C. Heath, Floyd Horton, John Horan and Vincent Nedbal; Auxiliary committee—President Mrs. Frank Harden, Mrs. Vincent Nedbal, Mrs. L. C. Heath and Mrs. W. K. Hills. Sons of Legion committee—John Horan, Jr., Orville Winfield, William Vos and Donald Heath.

The drive in this community will cover every block in the city, with an organization of Ward Commanders, Block Captains, Reconnaissance Squads and a Transport Division to carry out a well-integrated system of house-to-house canvassing and collecting operations. Volunteer workers will help the various units.

Two More Drownings Raise County Total To 14 For Season

While search continued for the body of Nicholas Cochnovity, 19-year-old Chicago youth who was drowned in Lake Catherine on July 12, two more drownings were reported on last weekend, bringing the water toll to 14 lives in Lake county for the year.

Thaddeus F. Pietras, 21, of Chicago, was drowned Saturday in Lake Zurich, and Edward Jarecki, 17, also of Chicago, lost his life in Third lake Sunday afternoon.

Jarecki was in a rowboat with Leonard Wilinski, 2114 Lyndale ave., and Chester Kopacz, 2132 Charleston st., both of Chicago, when about 200 feet from the southwest shore of Third lake the boat became filled with water. Jarecki fell out and started swimming toward shore. He disappeared.

At Lake Zurich a soldier on furlough, two girls and Pietras were out in a rowboat. Pietras plunged into the water from the boat for a swim to cool off. He apparently suffered a cramp and went down.

Both bodies were recovered.

AMERICAN LEGION CARNIVAL IS SUCCESS

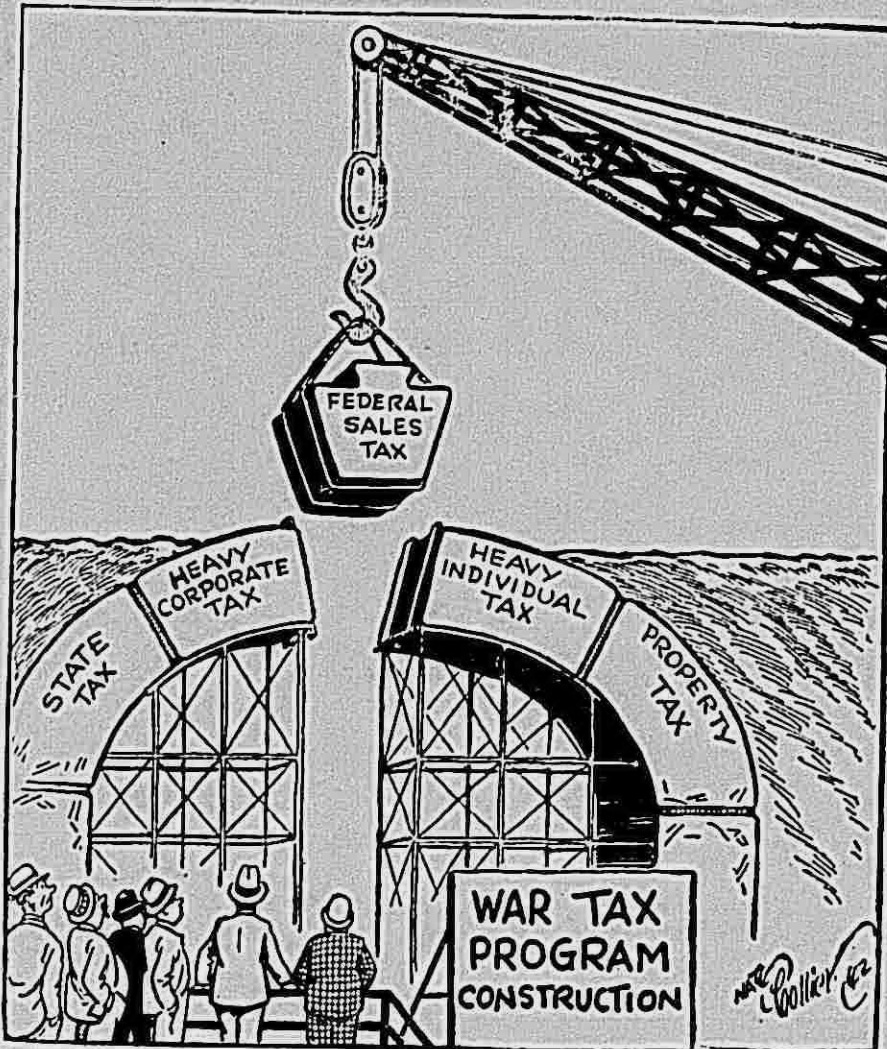

The annual American Legion carnival which closed Sunday night after a three day run was pronounced a success in point of attendance, entertainment and profit, according to the report of committees and comments of those who attended.

The complete report of committees will be received at a meeting of the Legion on Friday night. After payment of bills the net proceeds will be used for several worthy causes, such as aid to men in service, hospitals, and donations to local charities.

The Legion, essentially a service organization, has been outstanding as such in this community since its organization over 20 years ago.

THE NECESSARY KEYSTONE

Business in Wartime Subject of "Merchants' Clinic" in Waukegan

The Merchants of Lake County will gather for a great War Clinic to discuss their mutual problems brought about by War Regulations next Monday afternoon and evening, July 27, at Waukegan.

Loren Gamash, chairman of the Merchants Division of the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, in announcing the meeting states: "We have assembled the greatest galaxy of experts brought together in Illinois on price regulations, consumer credit and delivery problems, since Pearl Harbor."

The conference opens promptly at 2:00 o'clock next Monday, July 27, in the Karcher Hotel at Waukegan. It is sponsored by the Illinois State Council of Defense and the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations.

Dear C. M. Thompson, Chairman, Committee on Adjustment of Business to War Conditions of the Illinois State Council of Defense, will outline the program at the opening of the meeting. Joseph T. Meek, Executive Secretary, Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, will discuss general War Regulations, immediately followed by E. A. Heath, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, talking on "Consumer Credit—Regulation W."

The committee fortunately has secured for the discussion on "Delivery and Truck Regulations," M. G. Van Puskirk, secretary of the Illinois Dairy association, who is also chairman of Advisory committee to ODT. He talks at 3:00 p. m.

Price Regulation
At 3:30 comes the discussion on general price regulations, including posting and record keeping. The pricing of merchandise under the regulations is looked upon by many merchants who are close to the situation as the greatest problem which now faces the retail industry.

For this section of the panel the committee has secured a very able list of experts from the University of Illinois, various State Trade associations, together with OPA.

Evening Banquet
At 6:30 a banquet will be served at the Glen Flora Country club in Waukegan. Dean Thompson will be the principal speaker using as his subject, "Looking Ahead." The Dean is widely known among business and university men. For many years he has been the administrative head of the College of Commerce of the University of Illinois. He has been loaned to the Illinois State Council of Defense to work with business men on adjusting their problems to war conditions.

Early indications are for a record attendance. This week a committee from the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce toured Lake county calling on many merchants in the towns which did not have co-operating organizations.

Corp. Ray D. Morton left Antioch Sunday for Chicago to entrain for camp after enjoying a ten day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Morton, Corona Ave., and other Antioch friends. Ray is attached to the Medical Corps at Camp Berkeley, Abilene, Texas. Accompanying him to Chicago were his parents and Miss Dorothy Aronson.

Stiles Reports Sale of Bonds

Lake Co. Purchased $349,393 Worth of Series E Securities in June

Lake county bought more than a third of a million dollars worth of war bonds of Series E during the month of June, according to a report released today by James F. Stiles, Jr., chairman of the county war savings staff. The actual figures announced by Stiles were $349,393.80.

Series E bonds are the ones that come in $18.75, $37.50 and larger denominations. They are the ones that are available to individuals only, while the Series F and G bonds are for organizations. The county total announced by Stiles does not include the F and G bonds or war savings stamps.

The Waukegan postoffice led the list of Series E reports with $54,768.75. In addition it sold $21,365.90 worth of stamps, according to Postmaster Joseph P. Daly.

North Chicago Second

Second in the Series E bond sales was the North Chicago postoffice, which reported $50,775, made up of $21,112.50 in the first half of June and $29,662.50 in the latter half.

Close behind the North Chicago's postoffice was the Highland Park postoffice, which reported $50,631.25, while the First National Bank of Highland Park was fourth with $43,518.75.

June was the first month, according to Stiles, in which reports were received from all the issuing agents in the county. He expressed the hope that prompt reports for July would be forthcoming. During the first half of June the bond sales were $126,525, while for the latter half they were $222,868.80, indicating that the momentum of the campaign is increasing rapidly.

According to Chairman Stiles' itemized report, Antioch postoffice sold $13,121.25 worth of the bonds.

Air Raid Wardens Get Third Lesson Tonight

Gasses, incendiaries and blackouts will be the subjects in which junior air raid wardens will receive instruction tonight at the third session of the five weeks' course at the Grayslake grade school. The instruction tonight will be in charge of D. D. Getchell.

The first lesson, given on July 9, was in charge of Fred J. Berg of Antioch, who instructed the class in the duties and conduct of air wardens. Last Thursday night the class was instructed by E. M. Wells, lecturer for the State Council of Defense, and a teacher in the Joliet high school. Wells took the army course of training for civilian defense at the Texas A. and M., and he is well qualified for the work which is now taking his entire time. The demand for competent teachers is great throughout the state, Mr. Berg says.

The course will be completed on August 13, when those taking the course will be certified as qualified instructors. Those from Antioch township taking the course are Prin. Ralph E. Clabaugh, Legion Commander Roman Vos, Coach C. A. Wolfenbarger, and Virgil Newlin, grade school teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Homan are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, July 14, at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan.

May Use Dynamite to Recover Body in Lake Catherine

Search for Body of Chicago Boy Fails in 11-day Drugging

The Antioch Rescue squad today asked permission of the State Department of Conservation and of the State Department of Waterways to use charges of dynamite in an effort to raise the body of Nicholas W. Cochnovity, which has been in the waters of Lake Catherine for 11 days.

Cochnovity, 19, of 935 N. Parkside ave., Chicago, was drowned Sunday, July 12, when he and Miss Dorothy Nymark, 15, also of Chicago, were swimming from a boat. He apparently became exhausted and sank in deep water, witnesses to the tragedy stated. Miss Nymark was rescued.

Drag Lake Daily

The lake has been dragged daily by the Antioch Rescue squad in a futile effort to recover the body. After nine days elapsed, the time a drowned body usually rises to the surface, Captain Herman Holbek of the Squad, appealed to the state authorities for permission to use dynamite. The local squad was told to make another day's search and if unsuccessful, permission for dynamiting would then be granted, according to Lt. Herman Rosing who has been in charge of the dragging operations much of the time.

In case dynamiting is resorted to, the operation will be in charge of Howard Gately, of the Kenosha rescue squad. Gately is credited with the recovery of 168 drowned bodies during his long service with the American Red Cross First Aid and Rescue crews. He holds a license for the use of dynamite.

Harvester Battalion Recruited in 8 Days

The recruiting of the International Harvester Battalion of 859 men was completed in just eight days, according to information reaching the Antioch News this week from Lt. Col. D. L. Van Syckle of the ordnance department of the army, and Fowler McCormick, president of the Harvester company.

This is the Battalion that selected Joe Sheahan, senior partner in the Sheahan Implement company of Antioch, as one of the 859 volunteers who make up the Battalion. Joe left last week to report for duty.

The Harvester unit has been called into service by the army because of the great importance of skilled and efficient maintenance in the operation of mechanized forces in modern warfare. Harvester employees enrolled in the battalion will bring to their jobs a wide variety of mechanical experience in the manufacture and maintenance of the type of automotive units used by the army's mechanized forces. It is expected that other similar maintenance units will be formed from the employees of other similar large American industrial concerns.

The Harvester Company was selected for the formation of the first such battalion because of the nature of the products it manufactures, its large number of skilled mechanical employees and its organizational ability to contact its many thousands of employees on very short notice.

The army requested the company to form the battalion on June 24, the company accepted the proposal and agreed to aid in the formation of the battalion on June 26, enrollment was started on June 29, and the enlistment quota was passed on July 6.

The official name of the battalion will be "Twelfth Ordnance Maintenance Battalion, Armored Division, Army of the United States."

ANTIOCH NEARS GOAL IN U S O CAMPAIGN

With over 90 per cent of Antioch's $600 quota collected in the war fund campaign for United Service Organizations, the local committee headed by Roman B. Vos of the local Legion post and Mrs. Frank Hardin, president of the Legion Auxiliary, today expressed hope that the quota would be reached or exceeded during the month.

A check of funds received here to date indicated a total of $547.53 collected. The community needs $52.47 to complete the $600 quota. The slogan for the drive has been: "You help someone you know when you give to the U. S. O."

Inflation—(in one-cylinder words)

Inflation, as described in the dictionary, is a disproportionate and relatively sharp and sudden increase in the quantity of money or credit, or both, relative to the amount of exchange business. In accordance with the law of quantity theory of money, inflation always produces a rise in the price level.

In simpler language and applied to the present situation, inflation is caused by a shortage of consumer goods and a tremendous increase in the amount of money paid out in wages.

For the time being, we have stopped making automobiles, refrigerators, bicycles and other useful, peace-time products that we could buy and use any time, and have concentrated on the production of warplanes, tanks, guns, bombs and other things that are useful only in war-time. We have stopped making the things we want and are making the things we must have to win the war.

Thousands of formerly unemployed now have jobs. Added thousands are making more money than they ever made before. So, with more money in our pockets to spend and less to spend it on, either the value of money is reduced or the value of the goods has increased—figure it either way—the result is the same. They both mean inflation to the man in the street.

The danger in inflation lies in the fact that when it is in operation, all the money we earn and all the money we have saved is worth less to us and to everyone else. Inflation is just as simple as that and just as dangerous. That is why the manufacturers of the country are so interested in combatting it.

Invincible Production Machine

Americans may well be proud of their industrial war machine and confident that it will enable the Allied Nations to triumph in the end. As one newspaper correspondent, returning from a "Production for Victory" tour, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, puts it, "American industry is so huge and so powerful, both actually and potentially," that nothing can "prevent it from swamping the Axis."

"Throughout the land, a mighty revolution is in progress," says this correspondent. "American industry is beating the ploughshares of peacetime—the autos, the electric refrigerators, the toasters and the washing machines—into the swords of total war: planes, tanks and high explosive bombs."

While industry did not want this total conversion to war production any more than the public wanted to exchange their cars for tanks, the colossus is now at work and results of the gigantic war effort are discernible in every manufacturing center in the country.

On an all-out war production basis, American industry has not only met and passed the "fantastic" production schedules laid down by the government, but is beating the combined Axis production in terms of planes, guns, tanks and other essential fighting equipment.

Despite tremendous obstacles, which industry already is surmounting, and despite the shortage of certain vital materials, which ingenuity on the part of industry and sacrifice on the part of the population can overcome, American industry is doing its share of the job and as this correspondent points out, "The picture of the Arsenal of Democracy at work is one from which every lever of freedom may draw courage and strength."

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

Wars are won by attacking, not by sitting in a fort!
And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard-fighting, non-stopable men and materials!

We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high.

You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay day. Attack the Axis with your dollars today.

You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency.

How to arrange food in your Refrigerator

Pin this helpful reminder near your refrigerator

Different kinds of foods require different degrees of temperature and humidity. All you need do is put the food in the right places as indicated above:

Not all foods need be kept in your refrigerator, but probably more than you have been placing there. For example, bread will stay fresh days longer if kept in the refrigerator (lower section). Shelled nuts and chocolate keep better, too. Bananas should never be put in the refrigerator. And such items as mayonnaise, catsup, pickles and olives need not take up this valuable space.

To properly store and keep perishable vegetables, wash and skin off all surplus material before placing them in the crisper.

Nazi Steamroller Pushes Soviets Back In Struggle for Control of Caucasus; Government Wheat Sells for 83 Cents; Wage Pattern Set by Ruling on Steel

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Coast Guardsman Jack Cullen, 21-year-old hero who confronted the Nazi saboteurs who landed on American soil from a submarine, is shown as he was congratulated by Vice Admiral Russell L. Waesche, commandant of the U. S. coast guard, for his devotion to duty and outstanding performance that led to the capture and trial of the spy ring. Cullen was advanced from seaman to coxswain in recognition of his service.

RUSSIA:

Nazi Steamroller

Adolf Hitler had demonstrated that the long delay before he launched his monster offensive against the Soviet Union had not been wasted and that despite terrific losses his tank forces had lost none of their striking power.

For the mighty thrusts which started originally in the Kursk and Kharkov areas had steadily gained in weight and momentum, forcing their way through the Don basin. The attack developed three spearheads aimed to split the armies of Marshal Timoshenko in the Ukraine and those of Marshal Zhukov in the Moscow area. The northern objective was Voronezh on the Moscow-Rostov railway; the central thrust was aimed at Kuibyshev; and the southern had Stalingrad as its goal.

Moscow made no effort to minimize the danger of a broad breakthrough. For once holding a line from Rostov to Stalingrad, the Nazis would be in position to swing southward to Astrakhan on the Caspian sea and into the Caucasus itself, where waited their supreme prize—the fabulous oil pools of Tiflis and Baku. Moreover, such a move would pave the way for a junction by Nazi Marshal Von Bock with the armies of Japan poised on the borders of India far to the east and those of Field Marshal Rommel, on the shores of the Mediterranean.

EGYPT:

Collision of Tanks

Air-borne from Crete came Rommel's long-awaited reinforcements. Tough and battle-seasoned were they and expert at storming defenses such as the British were manning against them in Egypt's crucial El Alamein sector.

Tricky Marshal Rommel employed a battle device that had won for him on many a previous occasion—that of beginning his attack at dusk when the sun was in his opponents' eyes.

Bringing up heavy tank reinforcements, both sides battered each other in battles on which the fate of Alexandria and Suez depended.

The Nazis' immediate goal was a desert coastal ridge five miles west of El Alamein which the British had won from him days before. In the fiercely contested struggle, the RAF was actively engaged, with fighter bombers and light bombers scoring many direct hits on tanks and ranging far to the rear to harass Rommel's thinned-out supply and communication lines.

DRAFT:

'War Effort'

"Contributing to the war effort" will be an important factor in determining the draft status of married as well as single men.

In defining what constitutes "contributing to the war effort," selective service headquarters outlined 34 different types of jobs which would place a man in that category and thus delay his induction. Draft officials emphasized that the supply of single men of all classes would have to be exhausted first.

Trends were clarified in the revised policies announced by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service. While reiterating that "bona fide family relationships will be protected as long as possible," General Hershey instructed local draft boards that when the time comes for calling men with dependents to service, those who are not contributing to the war effort should be called first. Last class to be inducted would be married men with children who are contributing to the war effort.

WAGES:

Raise for Steelmen

In a decision regarded as a yardstick for future wage disputes, the War Labor board laid down the principle that workers were entitled to a 15 per cent increase, based on higher living costs between January, 1941, and May, 1942.

The ruling was made when the board approved a daily wage increase of 44 cents for workers employed by the so-called "Little Steel" companies: Bethlehem, Republic, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube. Directly affected were 157,000 men. Indirectly the decision was expected to affect more than a million workers, including 600,000 throughout the steel industry generally and 400,000 automobile plant workers.

The CIO United Steel Workers originally had asked for a $1 a day increase. The WLB voted the compromise wage increase 8 to 4, the labor members dissenting.

SURPLUS WHEAT:

To Sell at 83c

News bulletins had carried the bare announcement that the house of representatives had concurred with a senate proposal to convert government-owned surplus wheat into United Nations war needs by feeding it to livestock to produce meat, milk and eggs.

But back of that announcement was the story of the breakup of a six-months' legislative log-jam, a victory for the administration's anti-inflation program and acknowledgement by the farm bloc that it must accept less than a parity rate for the sale of this grain.

Twice before the house had voted to bar the sale of surplus wheat unless it was made at the full parity price of $1.35 a bushel. Now it agreed to go along with the senate and allow the sale of 125,000,000 bushels of government-owned wheat at 85 per cent of the parity price of corn—or about 83 cents a bushel—for feeding cattle and hogs. The house also agreed that any amount of government-owned grain might be sold below parity prices for the manufacture of alcohol for rubber or munitions.

MIDWAY SAGA:

Better Than Expected

When a naval communique released the first official detailed account of the Battle of Midway, the steadily growing conviction that the United States had won a victory of major importance was confirmed.

The communique revealed for the first time that Japan had sent an armada of 80 ships to assault Midway as a prelude to the conquest of Hawaii.

Final score of the battle was 20 Jap ships sunk or damaged, including four aircraft carriers sunk and three battleships hit; 275 planes destroyed, and 4,300 men killed or drowned. American losses included the destroyer Hammann sunk, the aircraft carrier Yorktown put out of action and 307 officers and enlisted men lost.

SUBMARINES:

Menace Grows

Official acknowledgement that something drastic must be done to counteract the Axis unrelenting submarine attacks on United Nations shipping was seen in Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox's announcement that a convoy system had been set up in the Caribbean area and would be established in the Gulf of Mexico.

Coastwise convoys, however, would have to get along without the help of destroyers, it was indicated.

CHINA FRONT:

Doolittle Sequel

Ever since the attack on Tokyo by Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle and his squadron of American bombers, Japanese objectives in China have been the seizure of areas from which United States bombers might strike again.

Thus when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's battered armies acknowledged the loss of Wenchow and Julian, seaports in southern Chekiang province, after steady withdrawals from strategic points in the Kiangsi-Fukien-Chekiang area, another air threat to Tokyo had been removed.

Bravely, however, a Chinese official spokesman pledged that with increasing air support from the United States, the Chinese army would intensify its counterattacks and would immobilize more Japanese troops in China than ever before.

Elaborating on China's view of the war and her role of tying up large numbers of Japanese, the spokesman said both Germany and Japan were "now making desperate bids, as they must score certain successes this summer in order to sustain a long war against the United Nations."

'FIGHTING FRENCH':

U. S. Encourages

More effective co-operation between the followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle and the governments of the United Nations was forecast as a result of several steps which coincided with the celebration of Bastille day.

First of all, the De Gaulle movement acquired a new name—"Fighting France" instead of "Free France." At the same time the French National committee became an administrative central body.

To symbolize the new relationship the United States announced the appointment of Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of U. S. naval forces in Europe, and Brig. Gen. Charles L. Bolte, chief of staff of the army's European headquarters, as military representatives to General De Gaulle's headquarters in London.

This step did not affect United States relations with Vichy, already badly strained by Pierre Laval's refusal to accede to President Roosevelt's request that French naval vessels interned at Alexandria, Egypt, be removed from the danger of Axis capture.

SECOND FRONT:

Dress Rehearsal?

From London came two significant reports indicating that plans for the long-heralded Anglo-American second front in Europe were going steadily forward. Just when such a front would be possible, however, no military observer would hazard a guess.

Described as a "prelude to what may be major military operations on the European coast," powerful American and Canadian forces plus units of the Royal navy and marines carried on the greatest raid and invasion maneuvers ever held in European waters.

At the same time, Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of American forces in the European theater, continued methodically the job of setting up the organization that will carry on the offensive. Giving attention to land, air and supply forces, he announced that Maj. Gen. M. W. Clark would command all ground forces, Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz would command air forces and Maj. Gen. J. C. H. Lee would be responsible for supplies.

OPA:

'Politics Out'

Price Administrator Leon Henderson has won many an enemy among professional politicians for his blunt disregard of partisan tactics. Hence his latest warning to OPA employees that any political activity would result in instant dismissal, was not calculated to gain him any new friends among the politicians. But observers believed it would step up the OPA's efficiency.

"No one in the OPA organization is going to be permitted to play politics with the war effort," Mr. Henderson said, in an administrative order reminding workers of their status under the Hatch act.

"I have said from the beginning that OPA is going to be run on non-partisan lines. I do not want anyone to have the slightest doubt about the consequences that will result from failing to comply with the law. As I have said in the past, if the Hatch act doesn't get them, the Henderson axe will."

NOAH: GOD'S COVENANT WITH MANKIND

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 9:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—I will remember my covenant.—Genesis 9:15.

God does not forget. He keeps His promises now just as He did in the days of Noah. Since our lesson of last Sunday, a long period of time had elapsed. Generation after generation had come and gone, and all the while man grew more and more wicked. Finally, God saw that He must put an end to the corruption of the human race, saving just one righteous family, that of Noah, with which to begin anew.

He warned Noah of the judgment of the flood, and he in turn doubtless warned others, but finally the day came when God shut him in the ark and poured forth the waters of judgment upon the then inhabited earth. But the same God who shut Noah in (Gen. 7:1), in due time called him out (Gen. 8:15, 16).

Noah had obeyed God, and He now rewarded him. The man who had borne the ridicule was now honored by Him. The experience of Noah brings before us—

God's Three Gifts to a Believing Man:

I. Power (vv. 1-4).

Man is the "lord of creation," not because he has brought about its subjection, but because God gave him that power. It was first given to Adam (Gen. 1:26), and it is renewed here, with the additional promise of the animal as food. This was not to be, however, after the manner of wild beasts (v. 4).

No man ever lost anything by obeying the commands of God, even though appearances may seem to so indicate. The ridicule of those who called Noah foolish for obeying God, had now been silenced by the judgment of the flood, and he stood forth vindicated, empowered by God, with authority over the whole earth.

Faith is still the victory. Men who put their hopes in the kings and empires of this earth have seen them "rise and wane," and even unbelievers are beginning to talk about the necessity of a spiritual anchorage for the souls of men. It is found only in Christ, but in Him is found both peace and power for victorious living.

But we see a second gift of God—

II. Protection (vv. 5-7).

Human life is not as cheap as men would have us think. Their estimate based on greed and lust for power makes man but a unit in a machine designed to build up political power. The blood of those who are not profitable to such an enterprise, is shed in utter callousness.

Those who do such things, need to read the words of God, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man" (v. 6). What a tremendous bill some men will have to pay when they stand before the seat of judgment of our God. Even the animals who kill men are to be slain (v. 5). How much greater shall be the condemnation of the man who violates God's command.

But we see a third gift of God, designed to remove a deep fear from his heart, namely God's—

III. Promise (vv. 8-16).

God made a covenant with Noah and with his descendants and every living creature (vv. 9, 10). This is the third of God's eight covenants with man, beginning with the one to Adam in the Garden of Eden (Gen. 1:28), and closing with the new covenant (Heb. 8:8).

This was a promise of God's grace that there should be no more judgment by flood, and as a sign He chose the rainbow, which, appearing in the very time when rain should fall, would reassure men that a new flood was not coming upon them. What a beautiful symbol!

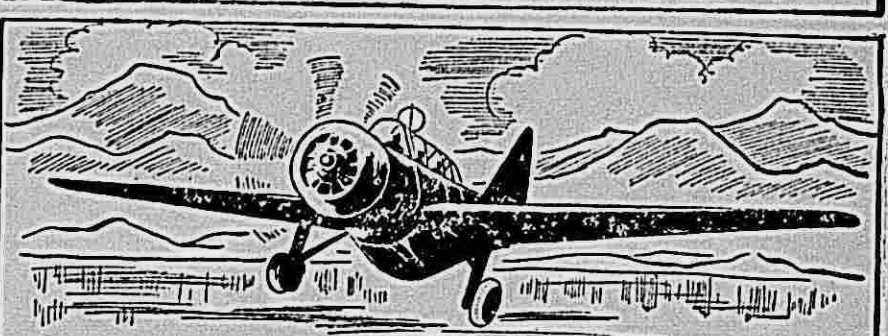

"I will remember," said God, and He has not forgotten. Though thousands of years have passed, there has never since been such a cataclysm of judgment. How unspeakably precious it is to recall that God has not forgotten a single one of us; that He remembers every promise He has ever made; that He keeps every covenant. And on the contrary, how disturbing it must be to the unbeliever to realize that God has not forgotten his sin and unbelief, nor the judgment which is sure to come.

The story of Noah should stimulate our faith, causing us to trust God, to obey His every command, and to look to Him for His power in our lives. His protection over us, His promise of grace to all who believe.

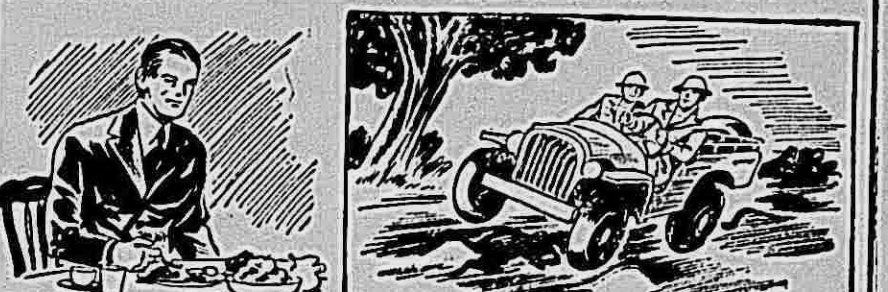

Faithful in Small Things

Duty, be it in a small matter or a great, is duty still, the command of Heaven, the eldest voice of God; and it is only they who are faithful in a few things who will be faithful over many things. Only they who do their duty in everyday matters will fulfill them on great occasions.—Charles Kingsley.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 19.

The Golden Text was, "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For the life was manifested and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us" (1 John 1:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. . . . Life is divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. If Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (P. 468, 469).

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Contributed by the Baha'i Group

"The spiritual brotherhood which is enkindled and established through the breaths of the Holy Spirit unites nations and removes the cause of warfare and strife. It transforms mankind into one great family and establishes the foundation of the oneness of humanity.

Until all nations and peoples become united by the bonds of the Holy Spirit in this real fraternity, until national and international prejudices are effaced in the reality of this spiritual brotherhood, true progress, prosperity and lasting happiness will not be attained by man. The basic plank in any economic program must be that man shall love his neighbor."

Abdu'l-Baha.

"Know ye not why We created you from one clay? That no one should exalt himself over the other. Ponder at all times in your hearts how ye were created. Since We have created you all from one substance it behooveth

you to be even one soul, to walk with the same feet, eat with the same month and dwell in the same land; that from your inmost being, by your deeds and actions, the signs of oneness and the essence of detachment may be manifest. This is My counsel unto you. O concourse of light! Heed ye this counsel that ye may obtain the fruit of holiness from the tree of won-derous glory."

$10,000,000 Waste

The Maritime commission, with the approval of the War Production board, has ordered the abandonment of the giant Higgins shipyard at New Orleans, after the government had already spent $10,000,000 and was to spend $55,000,000 more for the building of 10,500 ton merchant ships on an assembly line which would deliver a ship a day.

The commission says the steel needed to complete the shipyard can better be used in existing shipyards to build ships. Andrew Jackson Higgins, head of the corporation that is building the

New Orleans yard, hints that dollar-a-year men in Washington were responsible for the cancellation because his new yard was going to build ships faster and cheaper than existing yards.

The United Nations are losing ships faster than they are building them, according to Rear Admiral Vickery, vice chairman of the Maritime commission.

Under the circumstances, remarks the Chicago Tribune editorially, it is hard to believe that any American could be so false to his country as to sabotage shipbuilding for his personal profit. It remains to be explained why the Higgins yard was ever started, if the official reasons for its abandonment are the true ones. If there was not going to be enough steel available to keep it running, why was its construction authorized in the first place? The most charitable interpretation that can be placed on the affair is that it disclosed

some badly bungled planning in Washington, with mistakes of such magnitude that responsibility for them must rest in high places.

Let's adjourn politics and win the

Leaps From Arms of Law—Into Police Car

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Frank Mukai's flying leap for freedom landed him in jail.

The car turned out to be a police machine.

Mother's Right to Child Is Supreme

Judge's Ruling Ends Bitter Adoption Battle.

EAST CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—In a decision which brought heartbreak to one woman and untold joy to another, Judge Arthur E. Breane ruled in Middlesex probate court that a mother's right to her child is supreme.

The ruling, ending a bitter adoption battle, means that little Celina Elizabeth Barrett, four, must leave the woman who has cared for her since infancy, Mrs. Emily Pride, 40, of Belmont.

The petition of Mrs. Pride and her husband to adopt blonde and blue-eyed "Betty" was denied by Judge Breane on the ground that there had been no abandonment of the child by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett of Somerville.

Word of the ruling came with crushing effect to Mrs. Pride, her husband, John, a painter and paperhanger, and Mrs. Pride's 18-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Edith Hatch, who has been a big sister to little Betty since Betty was three weeks old.

The two women burst into tears while Pride attempted to comfort them, although obviously struggling to restrain his own emotions.

"How can I ever give her up. She is like my own baby to me now," sobbed Mrs. Pride bitterly.

A witness to that Prides' sorrow was Mrs. Barrett, standing a short distance away in the courthouse corridor with her sister, Mrs. Irene Price, of Roxbury, with whom she and little Betty will make their future home on an 80-acre farm.

"I am certainly overjoyed to know that I can have Betty with me and I know we'll be very happy," said Mrs. Barrett.

Virginia Is Widening

Many of Its Highways

RICHMOND, VA.—One of the major continuing projects of the Virginia highway department which is being undertaken this year is bringing up to a 22-foot width many of the 16, 18 and 20-foot roads now existing throughout the state.

Highway officials said that when, by traffic count, there are as many as 2,100 or 2,200 vehicles a day over a road, it is generally found necessary to increase the two-lane, 22-foot wide road to a three-lane highway. When the traffic count reaches a total of 4,000 vehicles a day, four lanes are found necessary to avoid congestion.

Meanwhile, two-lane roads which call for a width of 22 feet have been under construction only in the last two or three years. Most of the roads of lesser width were built in the late 1920s and are too narrow for present-day traffic.

This widening program is being carried out even on secondary roads, if they take enough traffic to warrant the change.

"They used their flat swords on me and I couldn't sit down at a mess table for a week," he said. "The Japs hated the Americans even then and I've never forgotten that. It started smarting again when I heard about Pearl Harbor, and although it's been a long time to wait my chance has come now."

Obituary

WILLIAM GEORGE STENZEL

William George Stenzel, 59 years of age, a native of Kenosha county and a well known resident of the village of Wilmet, died at his home on Sunday evening following a short illness.

He was born in Salem, Wis., July 7, 1883, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Stenzel. He spent his early life and was educated in Salem township.

On October 26, 1904, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna M. Hanke of Channel Lake, Ill.

He lived at Trevor for a short time, then moving to English Prairie, where he farmed for five years. For a number of years he was engaged in the trucking business and for 12 years had charge of the Star mail route from Fox River to Wilmet. For many years Stenzel made his home in the village of Wilmet. He had been the sexton of the Wilmet cemetery for a number of years.

Stenzel was a member of the Peace Evangelical Lutheran church.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Elmer G. Stenzel and Lawrence A. Stenzel of Wilmet, and by two grandchildren. He is also survived by one brother, Otto Stenzel of Wilmet.

He was preceded in death by one daughter, Lorraine, and by one sister, Mrs. Millie Schenning.

Ravenscroft Buys Canadian Champion Holstein Cows

Brattleboro, Vt., July 20.—Three outstanding Holstein-Friesian females all sired by the same bull have been added to the herd of Ravenscroft Farms, Antioch, Ill., through purchases made by E. H. Ravenscroft, owner, at the recent herd dispersal sale at Mount Victoria Farms, Hudson Heights, Quebec, Canada. Sixty-eight animals, many of them under one year of age, averaged $1926 per head.

Among them was Montvic Bonheur Hartog, world's champion junior 4-year-old butterfat producer, purchased for $5,200. At 4 years, this animal produced 1,153 pounds butterfat from 24,248 pounds of 4.75 per cent milk.

She is sired by Montvic Pathfinder, whose 26 nearest tested dams average 849 pounds of butterfat from 22,520 pounds of 3.8 per cent milk, and out of Montvic Rag Apple Hartog, daughter of the famous proven bull, Johann Rag Apple Pabst. One of the twin bull calves dropped in January 1941 by "Hartog," Montvic Rag Apple Ajax, sold at this sale for $5,200 to Raymondale Farms, Vandwell, Quebec, one of Canada's large breeders of Holstein-Friesian cattle. The other twin, Montvic Rag Apple Achilles, sold at $2,500 in the 1941 Canadian National Sale.

Also purchased for Ravenscroft Farms, were Montvic Bonheur Patsy, half sister to "Hartog" and full sister to Montvic Bonheur Pietje B, who was top price animal at the Mount Victoria herd dispersal. She is sired by Montvic Pathfinder and out of Montvic Rag Apple Pietje Posh, whose production record at 6 years was 841 pounds of butterfat from 20,349 pounds of 4.1 per cent milk. She was purchased for $3,000. The third cow, Montvic Bonheur Segis A, produced as a 3-year-old, 740 pounds of butterfat from 19,954 pounds of milk. She is sired by Montvic Pathfinder and out of Montvic Rag Apple Segis, whose production record at 3 years was 830 pounds of butterfat from 20,058 pounds of 4.1 per cent milk.

LAKE COUNTY WHEAT ALLOTMENT REDUCED

Lake county's wheat allotment has been set at 2398 acres, announced Chester A. Faulkner, chairman of the county AAA committee. This compares with 2721 acres allotted farmers of Lake county in 1942.

Remarkings on the decrease in the county's wheat allotment, Mr. Faulkner explained: "AAA reduced allotments in counties where farmers have been gradually changing from wheat production to the growing of other crops. Allotments were increased in counties where the opposite trend was observed. This helps accomplish the Agriculture department's aim of encouraging conversion from wheat to more urgently needed crops."

We have plenty of wheat and could sustain a general reduction in wheat allotments generally, thus making room for more war crops like soybeans. However, we've cut wheat allotments nationally to 55,000,000 acres, the minimum set by law, and any further reduction would require new legislation.

For construction costing in excess of this amount they must get the approval of the War Production Board. Farmers' applications for approval are handled by state and county agricultural war boards.

Receives Certificate in Pork Production

Milton Smith, Local 4-H Club Member, Has Ton Litter Entry

A cross-bred litter of ten pigs, owned by Milton Smith of Antioch, is well on its way to make a ton of pork in 180 days.

At the official weighing when the litter was 56 days (8 weeks) old, they weighed 474 pounds, being the heaviest litter entered in the Ton Litter contest in Lake county.

The litter is a Hampshire-Chester White cross. They have had exceptional care and at the present time are approximately around the 1200-pound mark with two months to go to reach the ton.

Milton Smith, son of Joseph Smith, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Savage, received an honorary certificate from the State 4-H Committee for having his litter average more than 35 pounds per pig at 56 days of age. His litter averaged 47.4 pounds.

Women Hear Better

The average man loses acuity faster than the woman. The 40-year-old woman hears considerably more than her stalwart mate of the same age—as many husbands have discovered when they tried to sneak in late from lodge meeting. Men lose most in hearing the high notes, up at the right end of the piano keyboard, or in women's voices. This is another instance when men miss something; it is as difficult for them to hear a voice like mother's used to be as it is to get the taste of her legendary pies.

Turns Sleuth to Catch Bunco Gang

Old Sea-Dog Makes Good on Promise to Himself.

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—An old sea-dog, who refused to take his losses quietly and let the law take its course, can sit back in the sunshine again, smoke his pipe and smile with the satisfaction of keeping a promise to himself.

Louis Van Rillaer, a retired sea captain from San Francisco, was swindled out of $7,700 in a horse race bunco game on November 26, 1939, while he was vacationing in Phoenix. He vowed he would never rest until he had put the swindlers behind bars.

He became an amateur Sherlock Holmes and began a long and sometimes discouraging search, but he always remembered his vow that he would locate and prosecute the confidence men if it took him to the ends of the earth and the remaining days of his life.

His perseverance won out. As the result of his determination, all three members of the bunco gang who fleeced him out of his hard-earned cash are now serving sentences in the Arizona state prison.

The amazing story of sleuthing and tracking down members of the gang covers a 2½ year period of traveling throughout the United States.

Van Rillaer located one of the trio, Max Kaplan, in Florida after a year of searching and caused his arrest. Kaplan was returned to Phoenix for trial. A jury found him guilty after five minutes deliberation and Kaplan was sentenced to from five to ten years imprisonment.

The retired sea captain-detective then took up the trail of Edward Price and finally caused his arrest in Portland, Ore. Price, who also used the name Phelan as an alias, pleaded guilty after being returned to Phoenix and was sentenced to from two to five years in prison.

The third man, whom authorities said was the "payoff" or head man of the trio, still continued to elude Van Rillaer. Finally, through the efforts of Sheriff Lon Jordan of Phoenix, Florida officers apprehended Harry Lewis, 56, a man with 11 aliases, and he was brought here for trial.

Just as Lewis was to go on trial, he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve from four to eight years in prison.

Van Rillaer said the bunco scheme involved a horse racing betting system which would bring fabulous profits. He said he was convinced so thoroughly that he made a special trip to San Francisco to obtain the $7,700 and returned to deliver it to the trio to show his "good faith" so he could share in the horse race winnings.

Mountain Feud Called

Off to Whip the Axis

NORFOLK, VA.—Once upon a time, when a Hatfield saw a McCoy—or vice versa—it was the signal for a shooting bee.

And today "those feudin' mountain boys" whose bloody war in the mountains of Kentucky and West Virginia made history, have taken up their rifles "for better game—the Japs and Germans," explained Fred Hatfield, 21-year-old apprentice seaman.

This time the Hatfields and the McCoys are fighting on the same side. Navy recruits from both clans met the other day in Norfolk to shake hands and pledge co-operation in whipping the Axis. They were Fred and Irvin Hatfield, both apprentice seamen, and Robert H. McCoy, a navy recruit, and Kenneth W. McCoy, in training here as a chief specialist in the physical fitness program.

The famous feud is believed to have started over a 50-cent debt on a hog. It ended by the marriage of a Hatfield boy to a McCoy girl. Fred Hatfield said that no one pays any attention to the feud now.

"But fighting is in our blood," Fred said, "and there'll be plenty of Hatfields and McCoys out there in the Atlantic and Pacific shootin'."

Dr. Banay said that six months had elapsed since the operation and that the man had recovered completely without any impairment of his intellectual facilities.

No Rhyme or Reason for It, but It Really Works

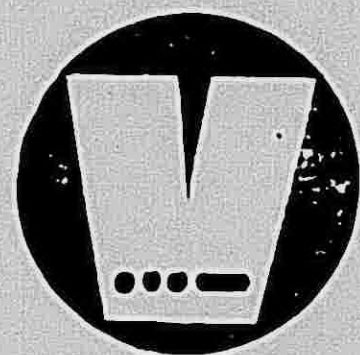

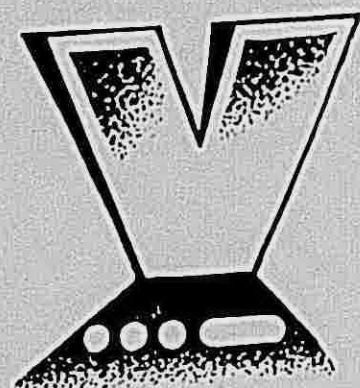

FINDLAY, OHIO.—William D. Robinson of near-by Rudolph, Ohio, began to whittle with a purpose three years ago and now he's displaying his handiwork.

Robinson calls the gadget his "unfinished symphony" because it will never be completed. He intends to add wheels and more connecting rods until the energy, furnished by the small motor, gives out or his gadget outgrows his barn.

RECORDS FOR OUR FIGHTING MEN

A year ago Mr. and Mrs. America were scouring cellars and attics and forgotten corners on the in-between floors for old aluminum items. Last month they were hunting down old rubber gadgets. And now, thanks to the American Legion, there's a nation-wide quest for old phonograph records. These old records will be sold as scrap, and provide the funds for new records and phonograph players to be shipped to American fighting men here and overseas. Already millions of old records have been collected. Millions more are needed. And there is a solemn obligation to find them.

For the American Legion's Records for Our Fighting Men campaign, while not concerned with equipment for the war machine, is deeply devoted to the cause of the men on whom we depend to run that machine. These men are Americans with a profound love for good music. Because they're Americans they like all kinds of music, and because they're in many cases far from home, the music that springs from America not only provides recreation and entertainment for them, but also serves as a reminder of the things American which we all treasure, which we're fighting for.

These factors should count heavily in your giving all-out support to The American Legion salvage campaign. Time is growing short; August 2 is the deadline. By all means, help the Legionnaires and their co-workers in achieving success in the good work which they have undertaken.

Leave old phonograph records at Antioch Township Library or Barthel Bros. Service Station, Antioch.

Plutocrat Hater, Hitler, Is Noticed As Being One

Nazi Chief Draws Greatest Private Income of Any Man in World.

LONDON.—Adolf Hitler, violent critic of the "plutocrats," draws the greatest private income in the world, according to the London Times.

Hitler is sole owner of Zentral Verlag, the great German publishing combine which has an annual turnover of about $280,000,000, employs more than 100,000 workers and shows a net profit of between $28,000,000 and $40,000,000.

No balance sheets are ever published; no auditor is ever allowed to examine the books. By terms of a contract arranged between Hitler and the director of the whole structure, Hitler has complete and absolute control over the company's income.

What he does with the money is a mystery, the Times declares. "It comes to him, not as the fuhrer, but as the head of a private concern. It is said in Germany that the Berchtesgaden house and estate are kept up out of this income, but even the whole paraphernalia of electric lifts and brightly lit tunnels cannot account for more than a small fraction of the great sum."

Started Control in 1921.

The Times reports that Hitler's control began in 1921 when the Zentral Verlag der NSDAP (National Socialist party) was registered as a company in the name of Hitler.

"At first its development was slow, but after Hitler took power, it grew quickly by the simple process of confiscating almost all competitors. In 1939 it took over the Jewish concerns of Mosse and Ullstein, two of the largest publishing houses."

"About the same time, it took over, again by confiscation, the famous Wulf News agency. Now known as the German News agency, this service has a complete monopoly in the German news field."

Owens Advertising Agencies.

"Zentral Verlag owns practically all of the advertising agencies. All the party books and periodicals also have to be published through Zentral Verlag—which means that it gets all the profits, not merely from compulsory sales of 'Mein Kampf,' but from the innumerable and lengthy books by Rosenberg, Goebbels and other Nazi leaders."

"In addition, almost all technical and professional periodicals in Germany are printed through the same channel—Hitler's Zentral Verlag."

"Its greatest business is in the publication of newspapers. It now owns two-thirds of all German newspapers outright in addition to drawing advertising revenue from 11 of the others."

'Help,' Written in Sand, Saves 2 Wrecked Crews

MELBOURNE.—Lieut. T. H. Moorer, an American naval aviator, was credited today with the rescue of two crews, that of his own seaplane and another from a ship, because he directed the writing of an appeal for help in the sand of a northern Australian beach.

Moorer and his men were shot down during a fight with nine Japanese planes. He set his flaming craft down on the water near a surface vessel he had been circling in an effort to identify it. The ship picked up the seaplane's crew, but a little later was set afire itself by the Japanese. Eventually the ship and plane crews succeeded in beaching the vessel.

Two days passed while the shipwrecked men searched vainly for food. Moorer supervised the writing of a huge message on the flat beach, which was soon spotted by an Australian plane. It circled, disappeared, and then came back to drop supplies.

The crews of both craft were finally picked up by an Australian navy ship which brought them to safety.

Girl Who Lost Leg Gets Her Bike, Rides It, Too

CHANUTE, KANSAS.—Delores Brand's parents promised her a bicycle for Christmas a couple of years ago.

Soon after a bone tumor necessitated amputation of her right leg at the hip. The 12-year-old girl got a wheel chair instead.

But Delores had other ideas. She used the wheel chair three days. Then she gritted her teeth and switched to crutches.

By July of the following year she was walking expertly with an artificial limb—and demanding that bike. Last Christmas, a year later, she received it.

Today, a courageous, triumphant girl of 12, she rides.

Judge Recalls a Thief

Who Stole His Shoes

NEW YORK.—Magistrate Ambrose Haddock doesn't forget a face.

When a prisoner appeared before him on a voluntary charge of vagrancy, Magistrate Haddock studied his face and turned his mind back to childhood days.

"I sentence you to 30 days, 'Jigger' and you're lucky I don't give you an additional sentence for stealing my shoes 34 years ago."

STREET CORNER THEATER GIVES "FREE" SHOW AT $3,000 PER DAY

Marlene Dietrich, movie star, is shown at "Treasury Corner" in Chicago, where in a space of 15 minutes she sold enough war bonds and stamps to buy a "Jeep" car for the army. "Jeeps" cost $800. With her is Don McKiernan, Chicago business executive, director of special events for the Illinois War Savings Staff.

Chicago.—There's a big street corner show going on in Chicago's loop where the public enjoys the world's best and most varied entertainment free of charge and yet produces some $3,000 per day for Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

The spot is known as "Treasury Corner" and everything is free. It is carved out of the corner of a department store and is rent-free. Women volunteer their time to sell war bonds and stamps. There is no talent charge and everything else that goes to make this unique show is donated—all in the interest of Uncle Sam and his fighting forces.

Director of Extravaganza

Director of this extravaganza is Don McKiernan, Chicago business executive who donates his time as manager of special events for the Illinois War Savings Staff. With him serve advertising men and showmen, who give freely of their time to make "Treasury Corner" the most productive sales outlet for war stamps and bonds of any similar enterprise in the nation.

And never before did any street corner show enlist such big name artists of Broadway and Hollywood whose aggregate time devoted to this purpose would cost any impresario other than Uncle Sam at least half a million dollars a month. At Treasury Corner they give their best efforts, for nothing—nothing, unless it's something to get together the money to buy guns and bullets and planes and tanks and ships.

Star Salesmen

"Names make news," and here are some of the names that have made news and sold war bonds (an average of more than $3,000 worth a day since May 4 when Treasury Corner opened): Marlene Dietrich, Judy Canova, Bobby Arnst, Shirley Ross, Mrs. Pat O'Brien, and Mary Howard; topnotchers of radio such as Morton Downey, hill-billies Dick Baker, Bob and Bonnie Atcher, Russell Conlon, Eddie and Fannie Cavannah, "Shorty" Carson, and Uncle Walter of "Dog-house" fame; sports announcers Pat Flanagan, Bob Elson, and Hal Totten; stage stars such as George Jessel, Buddy Ebsen and Skeets Gallagher; White Sox, Cubs, Giants and Yankee ball players; band leaders Eddie Duchin and Ted Weems; those dancing divines, Veloz and Yolanda; magicians, sketch artists, cartoonists.

If you're coming to Chicago, don't miss it—it's a must! No other city has a show like it. And just to be helpful, it's at State and Van Buren streets.

Rely on Rural Illinois to Help State Meet $85,000,000 July War Bond Quota

CHICAGO.—An appeal for rural Illinois to help meet and then beat the state's July sales quota of $85,000,000 in United States War Savings Bonds and Stamps, was issued today by Norman B. Collins, state administrator, Illinois War Savings Staff.

Mr. Collins was joined in this plea by the four regional deputy administrators who have launched a campaign to enlist their areas in the "100 and 10" drive of the Treasury Department. The aim is to have 100 per cent of the people pledge 10 per cent of their income for investment in war bonds and stamps.

"Rural Illinois has already given an excellent account of itself in war securities investment and we feel confident of continuing support," Mr. Collins stated.

"Illinois as a whole responded splendidly in the special pledge drive in May and preliminary figures for June show a healthy increase in purchases over May. Now we have the still bigger goal of $85,000,000 for July. And we must maintain that same monthly rate from now on."

Mr. Collins and the deputy administrators assert that there is a dual task—first to meet the quota and then to exceed it as much as possible.

Rural Illinois is a powerful factor in the state's objective of financing its share of the airplanes, warships, freighters, guns, tanks, medical supplies, food, clothing and other supplies needed by the armed forces, Mr. Collins stated.

"This segment of our state," he said, "is comprised of some 213,000 farms, a total farm population of 970,000 persons and an additional 1,100,000 persons in communities under 2,500 population. It has tremendous power and we are sure it will play a prominent part in the fight for victory."

The deputy administrators directing the campaign are H. A. Graves, Peoria, for the 32 north central counties; J. R. Mitchell, Mt. Vernon, for the 34 southern counties; J. H. Read, Springfield, for the 29 central counties; and E. W. Kapsar, Chicago, for the six northern tier counties and Cook county, exclusive of Chicago.

LAKE VILLA

The Garden of Memories at the church was dedicated at the 11 o'clock service last Sunday morning. This beautiful spot is known as the Miller Memorial garden, as it was largely through the efforts of Grant Earl Miller, who passed away last December, that the brick garden wall was made possible, and the plants and shrubs have been placed in the garden by the various individuals as memorials to loved ones. It is hoped that as the years go by, this garden and the garden wall will always be a spot of beauty.

The ladies of the community are invited to the village hall on Thursday afternoon, July 30, for the midsummer sale of rugs, aprons, fancy work, quilts and home bakery goods sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. A card and luncheon party preceded by dessert luncheon at 12:30 or one o'clock will be held at the church.

The next in the series of anniversary programs at the church will be on Friday evening this week, July 24, with pot luck supper at 7 o'clock, followed by pictures reminiscent of the gay nineties and a guest speaker. You are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamlin and Mrs. Ballenger were guests of Miss Olive Nelson in Waukegan on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Connell, who have been in the East for several months, have returned to their home here and will visit their son, Raymond Husey and wife and the Weber families.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blumenschein and baby of Waukegan, Minn., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sherwood of Waukegan are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Thursday, July 16. Mrs. Sherwood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hook, who are also in line for congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller and daughter of Chicago visited their father, Carl Miller and Junior last Sunday. Mrs. Cora Thorsen of Kenilworth spent Saturday night and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Irene Blanchard.

Private Henry Bennecke of the 95th Material squadron at Harlingen, Tex., is enjoying a visit with the home folks this week.

Rev. Earl Snyder, a former pastor here early in 1900, passed away on July 4 at the Princeton, Mo., hospital where his daughter, Evelyn, now Mrs. Byron Astelle, is superintendent. He had a charge in the Methodist church in Marshallfield, Mo., at the time of his death. He had been at the hospital for three weeks for treatment and passed away quite unexpectedly. Another daughter, Ruth, now Mrs. Bartlett, lives in Oklahoma City, where her husband is a student at the U. of Oklahoma Medical school. Mrs. Snyder was killed in an automobile accident about three years ago.

The 4-H club girls of Cedar Lake met at the Cedar Lake school on Thursday, July 15, and the 4-H pledge was given. Roll call was on cotton fabrics now popular. Louise Meinersmann and Idal Maier, the two members who went to the camp at Rockford, gave a splendid report of their stay at the camp and sang the songs they learned there. Ruth Schonscheck and Vivian Warren gave talks on the work the girls do—Ruth on proper undergarments to wear, and Vivian on the accessories for the garments they are making. Louis Meinersmann told of the proper way to treat burns, Ruth and Gloria Schonscheck served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Loughman and Donald of Chicago are spending the week at the Sherwood camp.

Pollinated Flowers
Wind-pollinated plants produce flowers that are not normally fragrant or brilliantly colored. In that category are the grasses, ragweed and most cone-bearers. Insect-pollinated flowers, however, are generally fragrant and beautifully colored—which is nature's device for attracting bees and other carriers.

Victory Day

R. H. Aldrich, well known maestro of Richmond.

Among the artists who appeared in the variety program were Miss Florence Farrar of Wilmette noted contralto, who sang solos and led the crowd in the singing of the national anthem and "God Bless America"; Miss Adelaide Bastian, of Decatur, soprano; Jack Baker, NBC tenor; Lester Pierre, Libertyville, accordionist; Jimmy Butler, cornetist; Ronny Black and Donna Bailey, Waukegan, dancers; Edward Barrow, Chicago, monologist; Lila Dalgaard, of Antioch, who sang several selections, playing her own accompaniment on the guitar. The highlight of the evening's entertainment probably was an impromptu rendition of "Swing Reville" by seven members of the Great Lakes naval drum and bugle corps.

A brief but impressive talk on the need of consistent buying of bonds and stamps was made by Stiles during an interruption in the program.

Chairmen of the various departments of the affair who assisted General Chairman Klass were: George Wagner, program; Roman Vos, parade; R. E. Clabaugh, publicity; Cletus Vos, dancing; Robert King, decorations; Louis R. Van Patten, safety; and H. A. Smith, victory bond sales.

STABILIZE PRICES FOR REPAIRING OF FARM MACHINERY

Farmers are assured of no further increases in rates they pay for repair to equipment and machinery, locker service and rental, harness repair, and other services, by the Office of Price Administration's recent action in placing ceilings on the prices of consumer services.

In general, the ceiling rates are the highest rates charged by individual service establishments during the month of March. Regarding the repair of machinery, the regulation applies to almost everything—from watches to automobiles.

The Lake County USDA War Board has received full information on how the regulation will apply to services farmers use. Not covered by the ceilings, according to Mr. Faulkner, war board chairman, are fees for farm management; hunting, fishing and trapping on preserves; tree surgery; veterinary service; grain warehousing services performed for a federal agency, and services whose rates are regulated by the Agriculture Department under the Stockyard and Packers Act.

The new regulation completes the overall price ceiling program that began when President Roosevelt outlined his seven point anti-inflation drive in a special message to congress. According to Price Administrator Leon Henderson, "Estimates place the number of establishments supplying the consumer services covered by today's order at nearly one million. It applies directly to services sold at retail and hence affects the budget of every family."
